

About English Literature and Culture

This programme is dedicated to the study of the literatures and cultures of the British Isles (England, Ireland, Scotland and Wales) and beyond (Australia and New Zealand and Anglophone Africa and Asia).

Students investigate texts and contexts as well as their interaction from a wide range of methodological perspectives. Apart from introducing you to a canon of literary landmarks by key authors, our programme also incorporates courses on popular cultural phenomena and media.

In addition to training your ability to analyse sources from the whole spectrum of cultural expression, our experienced faculty aim to develop your expertise in writing and talking about them. The skills acquired in this programme will qualify you for a wide range of careers in both the public and the private sectors, including public relations, journalism, trade and business, cultural heritage and intercultural communication.
